2026 CTF WOMEN'S SYMPOSIUM

In April, I attended the Women's Symposium, Our Roots, Our Strength, Our Rise, in Toronto, which brought together women from across Canada and the North.

The sessions focused on empowerment, equity, safety, and resilience. I was particularly interested in discussions on advancing equity through collective bargaining, including resources such as Bargaining for Equity, that have been developed by one of the Ontario unions. The session on workplace violence in feminized workplaces was especially timely, highlighting the need for stronger safety measures, increased training, and consistent reporting practices.

The symposium also provided valuable opportunities for networking and professional dialogue, offering insight into the challenges facing women in education across Canada.

I am grateful for the opportunity to have attended this meaningful event.
