MESSAGE FROM THE YAEP PRES:

Welcome back all Educators!

Usually during the first week of school, we experience autumn-like weather, and that often makes our return to the classroom feel familiar and sometimes easier. This beautiful summer weather this week seems misplaced, but we will take it. We all know what can happen in late September.

I hope you all had a wonderful and restful summer break.

Each new school year brings an annual dose of optimism and enthusiasm as we look into the faces of our students. Maintaining that optimism is critical for us as professionals and as members of any community.

We welcome our new members, and I encourage new members to reach out to us if you need advice, and also to reach out to your colleagues. Their words of wisdom can be a world of difference to you as you navigate a new setting and new assignment.

To all of you, I wish you a positive and fruitful school year and I look forward to visiting your schools this fall.
