BOOK LAUNCH & TALK with author Teoni Spathelfer on the launch of Little Wolf and White Raven. These two illustrated Indigenous children's books are the first two books in a trilogy and the stories are based on three generations of the women in Teoni's family. Teoni is also available for classroom visits and presentations. The launch takes place on Sunday November 14 at 2:30pm; register for free at <https://whiteraven.eventbrite.ca>.

NATIONAL GATHERING FOR INDIGENOUS EDUCATION: Join the National Gathering for their virtual event, A Shared Responsibility: Charting a Course for our Tomorrow. The National Gathering is a place where educators and partners can share their voices and work together to improve the educational outcomes of K-12 Indigenous students. Included is a student panel discussion on experiences in post-secondary educational settings, workshops over two days, a keynote address and an opportunity to network and share best practices with Indigenous educators across the country. The event takes place November 24 – 26, 2021. To register, visit <https://indspire.ca/events/national-gathering/>.

ATTENTION MUSIC TEACHERS: There is still time to register for the Canadian Music Class Challenge as the deadline for submissions is November 23. Each year music teachers must pick one pre-approved Canadian songs and have their class learn a cover version. The goal is to draw attention to the exceptional work of music teachers in this country, to reinforce the importance of music in a well-rounded education, and to have kids learn Canadian music in the classroom. For more details visit <https://www.cbcmusic.ca/musicclass>.

VETERAN'S WEEK AND REMEMBRANCE DAY: If you're looking for ideas for your classroom, Veteran Affairs has a website filled with resources designed for every grade. Veteran's week runs from November 5 – 11. Check out their page at www.veterans.gc.ca/eng/remembrance/get-involved/remembrance-day/learning-resources.
